

New The Europa Wager Expansion Released for Soren Johnson's Offworld Trading Company

The smallest of Jupiter's Galilean moons, Europa, sets the scene for the expansion with new resources, structures, challenges, and more

Plymouth, MI. – November 21, 2019 - Today, Stardock and Mohawk Games released The Europa Wager, the second expansion for Soren Johnson's economic strategy game, Offworld Trading Company. This expansion takes players to the frozen moon of Europa, where numerous cracks on the surface make building and sustaining new structures a challenge.

Offworld Trading Company is a real-time strategy game in which money, not military force, is the weapon. Stake claims to resources, extract and develop them into goods and upgrades, all while buying and selling in the real-time, player driven marketplace.

"The further out into space we go, the harder survival becomes," said Soren Johnson, lead designer for Offworld Trading Company. "Europa is completely uncolonized, so at the start of the scenarios you're faced with surveying the moon, setting it up for life support, and then founding a colony there before you're able to really start growing your business."

The Europa Wager is available to play in skirmish, multiplayer, or in a new series of challenging scenarios that provide a host of new challenges to overcome. Like the rest of the Offworld series, the expansion brings real-world elements into its gameplay as you attempt to establish a new business amid the frozen elements. For example, although water will not be hard to find on the frozen moon, aluminum is non-existent.
